in the eighth, sending three scores across.

The error column cost Wickenburg the game, nine misplays counting against the visitors, three of these being charged to Rosenburg at short. Finley Westfall was touched for nine safe hits, but the visitors annexed 10 off Brown and Heflin's delivery.

The game was a poor exhibition from the spectators' standpoint, but it offered the Senators an opportunity to test their skill against an outside club and get some good practice. The home hoys did not show as good as expected, especially with the opposing team making nine errors. MILLERS BEAT OKLAHOMA
